21st Century Fox CDIs Suspended on the Australian Securities Exchange in Connection with the Company's Delisting

New York, NY – May 1, 2014 – 21st Century Fox (NASDAQ: FOX, FOXA) today announced that trading of its CHESSE Depository Interests (CDIs) on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) has been suspended in connection with the Company's previously announced process of delisting from the ASX. It is expected that the Company will be removed from the official list of the ASX at the close of trading on May 8, 2014 Sydney, Australia time (the "Delisting Date"). Dates below are noted as of Sydney, Australia time.

Starting May 9, 2014, each registered CDI holder as of the Delisting Date can elect to have the underlying shares of Common Stock sold on NASDAQ through a Company-appointed broker under a share sale facility (the "Voluntary Share Sale Facility"), with sale proceeds to be converted into and paid in Australian dollars. The Voluntary Share Sale Facility will remain open until July 9, 2014.

On or before May 14, 2014, personalized Voluntary Sale Instruction Forms for participation in the Voluntary Share Sale Facility and Register Removal Request Forms for CDI conversions into underlying Common Stock will be mailed to registered CDI holders as of the Delisting Date. Non-personalized forms may be accessed at www.computershare.com/au/forms starting May 9, 2014.

Following the Delisting Date, all of 21st Century Fox's Class A and Class B Common Stock will be listed solely on NASDAQ. As previously announced, there will be no changes to the Company's operations, employees or business as a result of the delisting from ASX.

Further information regarding the Company's process of delisting from ASX is set out in the Company's definitive proxy statement filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on February 5, 2014, which is available, along with other information on the delisting, at www.21cf.com/InvestorRelations/ASXdelisting. The proxy statement is also available at the SEC's web site at www.sec.gov and at <http://investor.21cf.com/sec.cfm>. The proxy statement contains information (which CDI holders are encouraged to refer to) regarding the reasons for the delisting, the consequences for the Company and its security holders, and the arrangements in place for CDI holders to manage their holdings.
